

Thought for June 2025

By Revd. Claire Claxton

I think there is nothing nicer than going to a concert on a summer evening. I find my soul is fed by many different things: a walk through the countryside, a visit to an art exhibition, sitting in the garden listening to the birdsong. But listening to beautiful music in a beautiful ancient church is hard to beat for nourishing the soul. We at Forest Church are going to provide you with four such occasions in the next few weeks.

I recently had the privilege of taking part in a concert at Beau Sejour. It was a special celebration of the 80th anniversary of the Liberation of Guernsey but what made it even more significant for me was the performance of 'Maynine,' a piece of music that my husband, Chris, wrote for the 65th anniversary of the Liberation. It was an emotional and poignant occasion for my family and me, and many other people too, I suspect. The evening began dramatically with the drums and trumpeters of the band of the Royal Marines and continued with a joyful and soulful combination of music for choir and orchestra which included the players of the Biberach Youth Orchestra.

A line from a poem by William Congreve tells us, 'Music has charms to sooth a savage breast, to soften rocks, or bend a knotted oak.' Music is certainly powerful. It can make you laugh, cry, dance, clap along and even send you to sleep! Music brings people together, improves our health and wellbeing and can improve confidence and resilience. It is a real gift from God!

We sing together in church every Sunday morning. Why not come along and join us. And I hope, too, that you will come along to our concerts and find nourishment for your soul.

God bless you.

Thank you to the staff and pupils of the Forest School who produced poetry for display in church at Liberation. The use of such interesting and meaningful work was very much admired and showed the children had thought about the consequences of war.

Bishop Andrew's letter:

Jack Spratt's scrap heap clock

To St Andrew's, Wootton Rivers, and an invitation to place the first signature in their new visitor's book, after the sixty-year service of its predecessor.

These volumes are found in most village churches and remain a quiet record of the thousands who call into our places of worship, usually unseen, and leave their appreciation with a word or two and, often as not, a coin in the box or a tap on the e-reader!

In Wootton Rivers, they will find in the porch a beautiful board telling the story of local character Jack Spratt, who achieved fame by constructing a church clock entirely from local scrap to commemorate the coronation of George V in 1911. As a new installation was too costly, handyman Jack invited villagers to leave him their spare bits and bobs and proceeded to make a clock that ran (and still runs) with pin-point accuracy. Instead of numerals on its face, the tower clock reads 'Glory be to God'.

This eccentric and appealing project bears witness to the steady Anglican faith and resourcefulness vital for our churches to thrive and survive. Also, to the creator God whose spirit can work within us to make something wonderful from the scraps and times of our lives. To him be the glory.
